year than during the five years preceding.

UNIQUE CASE.

A unique case, in which the court will be required to pass on the character of a horse, has been started in Raleigh. Walter J. Moore bought a horse from W. J. Upchurch, who represented the animal as safe and gentle. Moore on Sunday hitched the horse to his buggy and he kicked the vehicle to pieces. In the warrant false pretense is charged.

The twenty-second tannual session of the North Carolina State Colored Teachers' Association is in session at St. Augustine School, near Raleigh. There is a large attendance.

Entirely new county Boards of Education will go in office July 1st, and State Superintendent Joyner has issued letters to them urging the importance of employing the very best county superintendents for all their time if school finances will possibly admit of it, exercising the greatest care to fill this office with men of the best ability, going out of the county, if necessary, to find him.

One of the great features of the commencement exercises of the college this year will be the alumni luncheon on next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Murphy's Hotel. For the first time in the life of the Alumni Society the bars will be taken down, and all former students, whether graduates or elected members of the society, will be welcomed. They have only to notify Hon. J. Taylor Ellyson, president of the society of their desire to attend, and ample provision will be made for them. They will have to pay the same the members of the society do—one dollar (31). A most delightful feast of body and mind is being prepared by the Executive Committee for the members and guests on this occasion.

MURPHY'S BELL BOYS

They Go on Strike, but Their Places Are Promptly Filled.

They Go on Strike, but I netr Places

Are Promptly Filled.

The bell boys and elevator boys employed at Murphy's Hotel, nineteen in all, walked out on a strike yesterday morning about 9 o'clock. Their places were promptly filled by other boys, and the service proceeded about as usual, save that the new boys have not yet learned the rooms and the routine duties as well as those that quit.

The walkout of the bell boys was due to the cutting off off their perquisites, their hours of work and the refusal of the management to accede to their demand for more pay. According to the statement of one of the boys they were paid 39 per month for their service, which embraced fifteen fours on one day and six the next. Besides this the bell boys were cut off from tips and dimes picked up shining shoes and doing errunds.

With the hotel crowded with guests, the boys asked for more money, and, being refused, promptly quit. The situation gives no promise of their renstatement. Naturally the strike at this time subjected the hotel management and guests to some inconvenience.
